

The Church of Gwen is the oldest church in Gwenborg and praises Gwendolyn the Arch-Saint, asking for her intercession between the people of the village and her husband karvargr.

Since its founding, the church has been controlled by the descendants of Gwendolyn with the priesthood passing from parent to child each generation. After a series of tragedies in the past few decades, the only remaining member of the priesthood is the young Blodwen.

In the past the church was solely responsible for organizing the many festivals in Gwenborg, but with dwindling numbers in their ranks that responsibility has been delegated to the village as a whole.
