A small forest just outside the sphere of influence of the federation of Heorot. Once a normal forest, it has since been polluted with poison. Some have attempted to find the source of the poison, but all attempts have been unsuccessful and many have been deadly.

Approximately 50 years before the start of the campaign a young green dragon took roost in a lakeside cave, polluting the water in the cave. The polluted water then ran into the lake, polluting it. Over time, the local plant life absorbed the polluted water and became poisonous themselves.

From:
https://danfartsalot.com/ofmonstersandmen/ - OfMonstersAndMen

Permanent link:
https://danfartsalot.com/ofmonstersandmen/doku.php?id=poison_forest&rev=1776655399

Last update: 2026/04/20 03:23