

Vanir Headquarters

A small building with a veneer of dirt and grass that blends in to the surrounding environment. It has a basement portion that is larger than the above ground portion. This building is where all official Vanir business is held, from assigning tasks to filing reports and updating tactics.

The upper level is designated for clerical tasks such as reporting finished work and handling requests.

The lower level is only for members of the Vanir and is used for internal matters.
